LegalLens AI — Legal Drafting Source Pack

Fictional training/demo material for Petition, Legal Notice, Affidavit and Bail Application

Purpose: This fictional case file gives LegalLens verified facts for grounded legal drafting. Missing information is intentionally left out so the system can demonstrate safe placeholders and refusal instead of fabrication.

Notice: This is fictional hackathon demo material, not a real case and not legal advice.

1. Common Case Facts

Case ID: LL-CR-2026-014

Matter: Theft of a laptop from a private office

Incident date: 18 September 2026

Location: Harbor View Business Centre, Chennai

Reported time: 21:40

Complainant: Arun Mehta

Witness: Priya Nair

Security guard: Rohan Das

Contract technician: Kiran Rao

Missing property: One laptop computer

Timeline

Time	Recorded fact
20:55	Arun Mehta states that the laptop was still on his desk.
21:05	Priya Nair leaves Room 304.
21:12	Rohan Das reports seeing a person carrying a black backpack near the third-floor lift.
21:25	Arun Mehta notices that the laptop is missing.
21:40	The incident is reported.

2. Evidence Records

E1 — Security Register: The third-floor corridor was accessible to authorized staff.

E2 — Witness Statement: Rohan Das saw a person with a black backpack near the third-floor lift at approximately 21:12.

E3 — Employee Statement: Priya Nair left Room 304 at approximately 21:05.

E4 — Complainant Statement: Arun Mehta noticed the laptop missing at approximately 21:25 and reported the incident at 21:40.

Investigation limitation: The material does not identify the person seen, does not establish that any named individual took the laptop, and does not provide a phone number, bank account number, address, FIR number, police station, court name, legal sections, or judicial precedents.

3. Petition

Use only: Case ID, incident facts, timeline, complainant/witness information and E1–E4.

Missing: Court name, jurisdiction, petitioner/respondent legal status, petition number, filing date, statutory provisions, legal grounds, exact relief sought and advocate details.

Grounding rule: Use placeholders such as [COURT NAME — NOT PROVIDED] instead of inventing missing particulars.

4. Legal Notice

Use only: The recorded incident facts, timeline and evidence E1–E4.

Missing: Recipient identity/address, sender's full address, advocate details, notice date, demand, deadline, statutory requirement and service method.

Grounding rule: Do not invent a recipient, demand, deadline or legal section.

5. Affidavit

Use only: Arun Mehta as complainant, the reported laptop disappearance at 21:25, reporting at 21:40, and evidence E4.

Missing: Deponent's age, occupation, full address, identification details, oath location, notary details, affidavit number and date of swearing.

Grounding rule: Keep statements limited to facts supported by the source.

6. Bail Application

Critical limitation: The source does not state that anyone was arrested, detained, accused or charged. It only records that a person with a black backpack was seen near the lift.

Use only: The alleged laptop theft, timeline and evidence E1–E4.

Missing: Accused name, arrest date, FIR number, police station, offences/sections, custody status, court, bail grounds, prior cases, sureties, bond amount and hearing date.

Grounding rule: Never invent an accused person or claim an arrest occurred. If required information is absent, the draft must clearly report missing information.

7. Expected LegalLens Behavior

• Every factual claim should be traceable to the supplied evidence.

• Unsupported names, dates, legal sections, case numbers, FIR details, judgments and demands must not be fabricated.

• Missing required information should be shown explicitly.

• If evidence is insufficient, return an insufficient-evidence response rather than guessing.

• Where possible, cite E1–E4 and the source page.

Suggested demo questions

1. Draft a petition using only the available facts. What information is missing?

2. Draft a legal notice based only on the evidence. What details cannot be filled?

3. Prepare an affidavit for the complainant using only verified facts.

4. Prepare a bail application. Does the source establish that anyone was arrested or accused?
